Executive Center Hotel

This is a nice hotel for business people located in the downtown financial district. Some people like it because it's closer than Waikiki. I don't recommend it because it tends to be more expensive than hotels in Waikiki and although it's fine during the day, this area is deserted and not especially safe at night.

I recommend hotels in Waikiki. It's probably best for people to do a search through tripadvisor.com, expedia, or travelocity or go directly through a Web site for the hotel chain they prefer. Also, use their memberships or connections such as federal discount rates, AAA, and others. Tourism is down in Hawaii so discounted hotel rates are available.
